The Kean University Chapter of the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi has opened the competition in its annual Student Term Paper and Project Contest. In its consistent efforts to promote scholarship among students and faculty at Kean, the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society has expanded the contest to include four categories:

1) Undergraduate Student Term Paper
2) Graduate Student Term Paper
3) Undergraduate/Graduate Project in Science and Technology
4) Undergraduate/Graduate Project in Visual and Performing Arts.

Phi Kappa Phi invites and encourages Kean professors to nominate student term papers in all disciplines as well as projects in science and technology and in visual and performing arts that are of exceptional quality for one of the annual awards. Several awards of up to $100, plus a certificate of recognition, will be given at Phi Kappa Phi’s spring initiation and reception on Friday, April 23, 2010 from 6:30 to 8 pm.

Student papers or projects completed in spring or fall 2009 or spring 2010 are eligible. The contest is open to both undergraduate and graduate students, with a limit of one nominated paper or project per student. A student does not have to be a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society to enter the contest.

To nominate a paper or project, professors need to fill out a nomination form and send the paper or project in appropriate media formats to Dr. John Dobosiewicz, Department of Geology & Meteorology, Science Building, C-317.

Submission deadline is Friday, March 26, 2010, at 4pm.

For more information, please contact Dr. Dobosiewicz via e-mail at jdobosie@kean.edu. or phone (ext. 73696)
