Nun Flying Through Walls: Statuary of Women in Budapest

March 9, 2006

Venue: Center for Academic Success- CAS 451

Time: 2:00 pm – 3:20 pm

An interactive slide presentation and workshop during which we will do a virtual tour of the ways women are depicted in outdoor statuary in Budapest. Come voice your interpretation of the nameless, bare-breasted swooning women set in stone at the feet of sword-brandishing heroes on horseback.

Susanna Rich is Professor of English at Kean University, the recipient of the first joint Fulbright and Collegium Budapest Fellowships, and author of “Still Hungary: A Memoir.”
