Differentiation of Reappointment, Tenure and Promotion Expectations for Tenure-Track CLINICAL Faculty

Tenure-track Clinical Faculty (Clinical Assistant, Clinical Associate, and Clinical Full Professors) are hired to teach traditional courses, but also to fulfill essential out-of-class assignments, whether required by prudence, licensure, or accreditation, such as oversight of students and/or faculty and staff in a clinical setting, visits to off-campus instructional sites, maintaining relationships with academic partner institutions, or similar activities. Because these responsibilities require a substantial commitment of time beyond the work typically assigned to a regular tenure-track faculty member, Clinical Faculty are not expected to produce the same volume and/or type of scholarship en route to reappointment, tenure and promotion. Clinical scholarship is the integration of theoretical and experiential knowledge encompassing the knowledge and learnings derived from the analytical observation of clients and patients, involving the intellectual activity of thinking, analysis and synthesis, and hypothesis generation and testing, resulting in dissemination of the knowledge generated. If the Clinical Faculty member produces scholarly research published in peer-reviewed academic venues, they would be expected to produce thirty five percent to fifty percent (35%-50%) of the work expected of a regularly appointed tenure-track faculty member during the same period of time. Alternatively, they could produce a volume of work that would match the expectations of regularly appointed tenure-track faculty members, but instead of publishing in scholarly journals, the work could be publications in a professional journal, research reports for government agencies or health care organizations, or engage in other ways in more applied community or professional projects.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applications for reappointment are submitted electronically via Interfolio. Faculty will receive an email from the system when a case packet has been opened on their behalf.

Faculty can also log-in to Interfolio to update their Faculty Activity Report sections and active cases at any time by following the steps below:

- Go to www.interfolio.com
- Select Log-In
- Select “Sign in with partner institution”
- In the search box, type Kean University and sign in using Kean credentials (the same username/password used for other SSO applications – Microsoft, Workday, Workvivo, etc.)

Applications for reappointment, submitted via Interfolio contain two (2) submission sections:

FACULTY OBSERVATIONS

Three (3) new peer teaching observations have been required for each reappointment cycle. Peer observations are conducted during the prior academic year; one of the observations is conducted by the Departmental ARTP Committee Chairperson. For the AY25-26 cycle, three new peer teaching observations should have already been prepared and should be submitted. If two (2) peer observations are completed by the submission deadline, two may be included in this cycle, and these will satisfy the requirement. The number of peer observations required in future cycles is under review.

Each observation must be discussed with the Candidate, who has the right to respond in writing and the right for the response to be included in the reappointment file.

Special Note: Faculty applying for reappointment in Year 2 submit two new observations. These observations were completed after submission of Year 1 reappointment materials (i.e., during late Fall 2024 or Spring/Summer 2025).

Each evaluation must:

1. Be signed by the faculty member making the observation
2. Indicate the date of the observation

Note:

1. In order to satisfy the requirements of due process, the class meeting chosen for evaluation should be one in which teaching competence may be fully demonstrated. Thus, examination sessions, class presentations by students, individual private instruction, and similar situations are excluded.
2. Fairness to the Candidate would suggest that the observer be present from the very beginning of the class session so that important information and directions given to the students are not missed.

3. To be helpful to the Candidate as well as to the ARTP Committee, the evaluation should be directed to considerations such as the following:
 - The Candidate's knowledge of the content area of the course:
 - the precision and accuracy of information given to the students
 - evidence of the Candidate's scholarship observed in the class
 - apparent value of the readings and assignments given to the students
 - The Candidate's ability to communicate and facilitate learning:
 - organization of the class presentation
 - clarity and relative importance of the objectives of the presentation
 - ability to motivate and guide students in deepening their knowledge
 - openness and facility in responding to questions

STUDENT EVALUATIONS

Student evaluations for all courses taught during the review period are required and should be uploaded to the Teaching Activity section under FAR. You must upload the student evaluations to each course in FAR yourself as Interfolio does not pull them in automatically.

Data on all courses taught is uploaded to the Teaching Activity section of FAR each semester based on records in Colleague (the Kean student information system) and is view-only. The enrollment data will be shown when you are the primary instructor or co-instructor. If you feel there are any errors in this section, they should be reported to interfolio@kean.edu.

Starting in Fall 2019, all course evaluations are conducted online. Kean utilizes Anthology as the course evaluations provider (Campus Labs is a company within Anthology now). To access your Course Evaluations (formerly called SIR II), please visit the Campus Labs website (still in force). You may download and save the evaluations as a PDF prior to uploading them in the Course Attachment section of Teaching Activities for each course. The Course Evaluations Resources website includes information about accessing your evaluations and who to contact should you need help or support with the system.
