Formatting and Style Guide

What is APA?

American Psychological Association (APA)

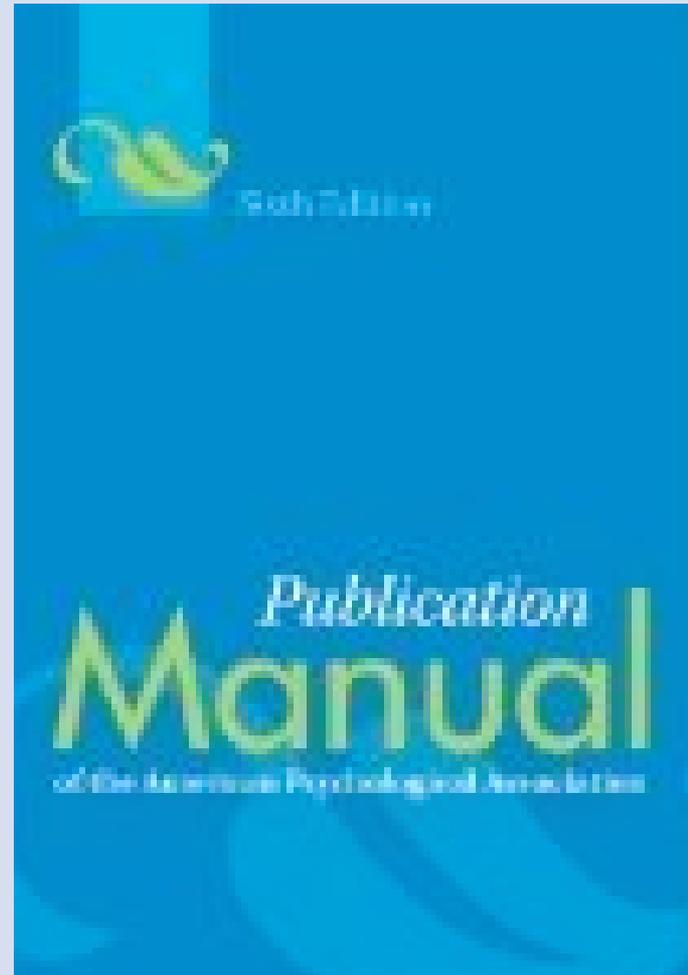

is the most commonly used format for manuscripts in the Social Sciences.

What does APA regulate?

APA regulates:

- Stylistics
- In-text citations
- References
(a list of all sources used in the paper)

Types of APA Papers

➤ The literature review:

the summary of what the scientific literature says about the topic of your research—includes title page, introduction, list of references

➤ The experimental report:

the description of your experimental research-- includes title page, abstract, introduction, method, results, discussion, references, appendices, tables & figures

General Format

Your essay should:

- be typed, double-spaced, with two spaces after punctuation between sentences
- on standard-sized paper (8.5”x11”)
- with 1” margins on all sides
- in 12 point Times New Roman
- include a page header (shortened title) in the upper left-hand of every page and a page number in the upper right-hand side of every page

Title Page

The title should be centered in the upper half of the title page.

All words in a title except articles, conjunctions, and prepositions of less than four letters are capitalized.

Double-spaced and centered beneath the title is your name and two spaces below this is the full name of your institution.

Running head – a shortened title, no more than 50 characters in length, appears in the upper left corner of every page.

The words “Running head” only appears on the title page.

Running head: EFFECTS OF STUDENT PERSEVERANCE 1

Effects of Student Perseverance:

Findings in a College Setting

John Doe

Kean University

title flush left + page number flush right.

Title:

(in the upper half of the page, centered)

name (no title or degree) + affiliation (university, etc.)

(no date, no class name, no professor's name)

Next Page

Will be numbered page 2

Does not have the words “Running head”

EFFECTS OF STUDENT PERSEVERANCE

Header: Different First Page

Go to the “View” menu.

Click on “Header and Footer.”

Click on the icon that looks like an open book. (Page Setup)

Choose the “Layout” tab.

Click “OK.”

Create the header you would like to have on the first page. This header will only appear on the first page. Click “Close” (6 icons to the right of page setup – the icon that looks like an open book).

Once you are on the second page, go to the “View” menu once again. Click on “Header and Footer.” Create the header you would like to have on the second page as well as each additional page thereafter. Click “Close” (6 icons to the right of page setup – the icon that looks like an open book). For each additional page, you will not need to create the header. The same header for the second page will automatically be the header for each additional page.

Level of Headings

APA Style uses a unique headings system to separate and classify paper sections.

There are 5 heading levels in APA.

Regardless of the number of levels, always use the headings in order, beginning with level 1.

APA Headings

Level	Format
1	Centered, Boldface, Uppercase and Lowercase Headings
2	Left-aligned, Boldface, Uppercase and Lowercase Heading
3	Indented, boldface, lowercase heading with a period. Begin body text after the period.
4	Indented, boldface, italicized, lowercase heading with a period. Begin body text after the period.
5	Indented, italicized, lowercase heading with a period. Begin body text after the period.

Section headings receive level one format. Subsections receive level two format. Subsections of subsections receive level three format. For example:

In-text Citations

Whenever you take information from a source, provide in parenthesis;

- the author's or authors' names and the date of publication.

For example;

Smith (2010) found that X occurs often with Y.

or

X often occurs with Y (Smith, 2010).

In-text Citations:

A work with two authors

- When citing a work with two authors, identify both authors whenever you cite the work.
- Example

Hernandez and Harris (2011) theorize that personality shows stability over time.

In-text Citations:

A work with 3 to 5 authors

- When citing a work with three to five authors, the first time you cite the work, identify all authors in the signal phrase or in parenthesis:

(Harklau, Siegal, & Losey, 2009)

- In subsequent citations, only use the first author's last name followed by "et al." in the signal phrase or in parentheses:

(Harklau et al., 2009)

In-text Citation of a Website

If possible, cite an electronic document the same as any other document by using the author-date style.

- Example

Kenneth and Velez (2000) explained the cause as multifactorial.

In-text Citation of a Website

When citing an entire website, it is sufficient to give the address of the site in just the text.

- Example:

Kidspsych is a wonderful interactive website for children (<http://www.kidspsych.org>).

In-text Citation of a Website

If there is no author, no year and no page numbers your text citation would include the title (or short title) "n.d." for no date, and paragraph number.

Example (e.g., "Heuristic," n.d., para. 1).

References

- The reference list at the end of your paper provides information necessary for the reader to identify and retrieve each source.

References Page

- Center the title—References-- at the top of the page
- Double-space reference entries
- Flush left the first line of the entry and indent subsequent lines
- Order entries alphabetically by the author's surnames

Do NOT include
"Running head:"
in the header
after the title
page!

How to Reference a Website

Author, A. A., & Author, B. B. (Date of publication). Title of document. Retrieved from <http://Web address>

Example:

Angeli, E., Wagner, J., Lawrick, E., Moore, K., Anderson, M., Soderland, L., & Brizee, A. (2010, May 5). General format. Retrieved from <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>

How to Reference a Website

When there is no author for a web page, the title moves to the first position of the reference entry:

- Example:

New child vaccine gets funding boost. (2001).

Retrieved March 21, 2001, from http://news.ninemsn.com.au/health/story_13178.asp

For In-text citation

- Cite in text the first few words of the reference list entry (usually the title) and the year. Use double quotation marks around the title or abbreviated title.: ("New Child Vaccine," 2001).

In-text Citations: Basics

Whenever you use a source, provide in parenthesis:

- the author's name and the date of publication
- for quotations and close paraphrases, provide a page number as well

In-text citations help readers locate the cited source in the References section of the paper.

In-text Citations: Format for a quotation

When quoting, introduce the quotation with a signal phrase. Make sure to include the author's name, the year of publication, the page number, but keep the citation brief—do not repeat the information.

- Caruth (1996) states that a traumatic response frequently entails a “delayed, uncontrolled repetitive appearance of hallucinations and other intrusive phenomena” (p.11).
- A traumatic response frequently entails a “delayed, uncontrolled repetitive appearance of hallucinations and other intrusive phenomena” (Caruth, 1996, p.11).

In-text Citations:

Format for a summary or paraphrase

There are several formats for a summary or paraphrase:

- provide the author's last name and the year of publication in parenthesis after a summary or a paraphrase:

Although feminist studies focus solely on women's experiences, they err by collectively perpetuating the masculine-centered impressions (Fussell, 1975).

In-text Citations:

Format for a summary or paraphrase

Formats for a summary or paraphrase (cont'd):

- include the author's name in a signal phrase followed by the year of publication in parenthesis:

Recently, the history of warfare has been significantly revised by Higonnet et al. (1987), Marcus (1989), and Raitt and Tate (1997) to include women's personal and cultural responses to battle and its resultant traumatic effects.

In-text Citations:

Format for a summary or paraphrase

Formats for a summary or paraphrase (cont'd):

- when including the quotation in a summary/paraphrase, also provide a page number in parenthesis after the quotation:

According to feminist researchers Raitt and Tate (1997), “It is no longer true to claim that women's responses to the war have been ignored” (p. 2).

In-text Citations:

Two or more works

- When the parenthetical citation includes two or more works, order them in the same way they appear in the reference list—the author’s name, the year of publication—separated by a semi-colon:

(Kachru, 2005; Smith, 2008)

In-text Citations:

A work with two authors

- When citing a work with two authors, use “and” in between authors’ name in the signal phrase yet “&” between their names in parenthesis:

According to feminist researchers Raitt and Tate (1997), “It is no longer true to claim that women's responses to the war have been ignored” (p. 2).

Some feminists researchers question that “women's responses to the war have been ignored” (Raitt & Tate, 1997, p. 2).

In-text Citations:

A work with 3 to 5 authors

- When citing a work with three to five authors, identify all authors in the signal phrase or in parenthesis:
