Child Care Access Means
Parents in School

Kean Child Care and Development Center • Union, NJ

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Child Care Access Means Parents in School (CCAMPIS) is a federal program through the U.S. Department of Education that assists qualified students who are parents/guardians with covering the cost of high-quality child care while they attend college.

MISSION

Our mission is to help students who are parents/guardians successfully complete their college education. We provide high-quality child care during the day and/or after school hours that gives you the security of knowing your children are being taught and cared for by experienced teachers in a safe environment.

ELIGIBILITY

You must meet the following basic requirements to qualify:

- Be a Kean University student enrolled in a degree-seeking program
- Be a U.S. citizen or individual authorized to work/study in the U.S.
- Be eligible for a Pell Grant
- Have a current FAFSA form on file
- Not receiving a child care subsidy from another local, state or federal program
- Have a child between the ages of 2.5 – 5 years old (for daycare) or 2.5 – 13 years old (for aftercare)
- Maintain a minimum course load of 3 credits per semester

Please submit these documents in order to process your CCAMPIS application:

1. Copy of Financial Aid Award Letter
2. Current Course Registration (class schedule)
3. Current Unofficial Transcript indicating from Kean, previous college or high school (indicating your current GPA)

Participants are selected based on the greatest need, application date and space availability in the Kean Child Care Center.

Additional program requirements:

- Maintain a minimum GPA of 2.0
- Participate in CCAMPIS workshops and events
- Be currently enrolled in a minimum of 3 credits at Kean*

If you do not maintain the minimum enrollment in classes at Kean, your child(ren) won't qualify for the CCAMPIS grant and you will be responsible for paying Kean Child Care Center tuition.
