

August 2020 Student Newsletter

Hello Kean Ocean Students,

We hope you are enjoying your summer!

All but one of the Kean Ocean sections (HED 3232) will be held remotely. REMOTE classes will be searchable through the Instructional Methods drop down link in KeanWISE. The KeanWise description will say room to be announced but these classes will not be physically on campus, so no room will be assigned. You will receive the same content and service for this remote period of instruction that you receive for face to face instruction. Your instructors will provide lectures and opportunities for group and individual communication.

Due to the Gateway loop and lobby being used for COVID testing for the County, the Gateway Building will remain closed for the Fall semester. All Kean Ocean Administrative and academic services will continue to be offered remotely via telephone (732) 255-0356 and email keanocc@kean.edu. Please see our Kean Ocean Contact Information page for additional contact information for Admissions, Financial Aid and Student Accounting. We will update you with any changes or in person services when the information becomes available.

Registration is ongoing for Fall 2020 course selection. It is imperative to register as soon as possible to ensure you get a seat in your preferred sections. Please remember to register for at least one class by August 12, 2020, to avoid a $105 late fee. You can make changes to your schedule without penalty, through the end of add/drop, as long as you have initially registered by August 12th. To do so, please see Keanwise and/or reach out to your academic adviser or Executive Director for your program. If you are unsure who your advisor or Executive Director is, you can see them as part of your success team in the Advise Student Experience.

We are here to support you to stay on track for a timely graduation, so we all emerge from this challenge in a better place than we began. Please do not hesitate to reach out.
