KEY TIP: Please note that if you wish to apply to the NJ State Department of Education for certification, you must complete the Teacher Certification application and submit it through the Kean University Office of Teacher Certification. Please visit our website for more information:

Office of Teacher Certification and Alternate Route Programs | Kean University.

Here is an example of an email sent by the Registrar's Office:

Dear Student,

Upon successful completion of the course(s) you are enrolled in the fall semester, your degree will be conferred on January 20, 2024.

Congratulations on your upcoming graduation!

Sincerely,

- Universities are responsible for nominating their candidates who completed an educator preparation program. What you absolutely do NOT do is go into the portal and apply on your own for your certification. Doing so tells the system you want to apply on your own, which takes 8-12 weeks processing time. So tempting, yet so so so not good. Turn your eyes away from the "Apply Now" button....

WARNING: DO NOT APPLY ON YOUR OWN!!!

Step 2: After officially graduating on May 31st (May graduates), August 30th (August graduates) or January 31st (January graduates), the University begins the process of organizing data to nominate candidates in NJEdCert.

- This is done by the Registrar's Office.
- The Registrar does not have just teacher education certification to do; they have all additional cert programs, advanced certs, admin certs etc.
- The Registrar must manually complete each nomination in the system after all information is verified regarding program completion.
- The Certification Office will review each candidate's application to make sure that it is complete: application, Praxis scores, and/or supporting documents.
- Nominations begin after your record is closed or degrees are posted by the Registrar's Office. A daily scheduled report is emailed to the Certification Office that will show you all May, August, and January graduates from the various teaching certification and GCT programs.

KEY TIP: Graduation candidates should regularly check their KeanWise accounts to ensure all restrictions are resolved prior to the conferral of their degrees. Diplomas and transcripts cannot be released to students with active restrictions. Candidates will be notified via email of any missing requirements.

KEY TIP: GCT Candidates should regularly check their KeanWise accounts to ensure all requirements of their program are met. In addition, they are responsible for submitting information regarding any transfers of credit or substitutions prior to the submission of their application. Graduate Certificate evaluations are completed by the Office of the Registrar based on the candidates' academic program.

Step 3: Once a nomination is made in the system, the candidate receives an email (see below) from the NJDOE.

KEY TIP: Use a tablet or computer - NOT A PHONE for this important process. Typos are far more common on phones and can cause huge delays in receiving your certification.

Letter of Good Standing

Hundreds of Kean University candidates are processed for certification each spring, summer, and fall. For most candidates, receiving certification by the end of June or August, or December is fine - it provides plenty of time to be ready for hiring paperwork and approval for the upcoming school year. For some, however, becoming certified as soon as possible is important and a few days difference means a lot. This usually is true for candidates who have summer jobs lined up that require certification, some jobs in districts that do not have summer board meetings (or where the hiring managers are...difficult...), or jobs in other states. If you need a letter to give to your prospective employer because of your confirmed or pending job, you may email Ms. Kenya Harris at kharris@kean.edu for a letter. You must include your name and Kean ID Number. Keep in mind that our office receives large volumes of requests for these letters.

Fine Print

The University does not guarantee a date by which candidates will be nominated for certification. Factors such as number of applicants, system glitches, personnel availability, and other factors outside the University's control can impact the timing. The University does its best to process certification nominations as quickly and efficiently as possible.
