1. Employee savings are for informational purposes only and are based upon monthly pre-tax deductions of $130 for a transit benefit and $250 for a parking benefit. Individual savings may vary based upon income, individual tax rates, state of residence and other factors. Please consult your tax advisor.

2. Estimate based on the maximum pre-tax contribution of $130/month for a transit benefit. Individual savings may vary based on contribution amounts, income, individual tax rates, state of residence, and other factors.

HOW DO COMMUTER BENEFITS WORK?

Commuter benefits are an employer-offered benefit that lets you use your tax-free dollars to pay for your commute. For 2014, the IRS allows you to deduct up to $130 per month/$1,560 per year from your pre-tax salary to pay for mass transit use. You can also deduct an additional $250 per month/$3,000 per year for qualified commuter parking.

By enrolling in the program, you get to take home more money each month, which can add up to big annual savings just by traveling to and from work. You will pay less tax and save more money. It's that easy.

Here is an example of how you save:

	Without TransitChek	With TransitChek
Monthly Salary	$3,750	$3,750
Pre-Tax TransitChek Transit Deduction	$0	- $130
Pre-Tax TransitChek Parking Deduction	$0	- $250
Salary Subject to Taxes	$3,750	$3,370
Estimated Taxes	- $946	- $819

Parking Expense	- $250	$0
Take-Home Pay	$2,424	$2,551
Monthly Savings	$0	$127

As you can see, an employee deducting the full $130 a month for mass transit and deducting the full $250 a month for commuter parking can receive savings of up to $127 per month.

3. Individual savings may vary based on contribution amounts, income, individual tax rates, state of residence, and other factors.
