

Understanding Academic Language in edTPA: Supporting Learning and Language Development

Academic Language (AL) is the oral and written language used for academic purposes. AL is the “language of the discipline” used to engage students in learning and includes the means by which students develop and express content understandings.

When completing their edTPA, candidates must consider the AL (i.e., language demands) present throughout the learning segment in order to support student learning and language development. The language demands in History/Social Studies include: function, vocabulary/symbols, discourse, and syntax.

As stated in the edTPA handbook:

- Candidates identify a key language function and one essential learning task within their learning segment lesson plans that allows students to practice the function (Task 1- Prompts 4a/b).
- Candidates are then asked to identify vocabulary and one additional language demand related to the language function and learning task (Task 1 – Prompt 4c).
- Finally, candidates must identify and describe the instructional and/or language supports they have planned to address the language demands (Task 1 - 4d). Language supports are scaffolds, representations, and instructional strategies teachers intentionally provide to help learners understand and use the language they need to learn within disciplines.

It is important to realize that not all learning tasks focus on both discourse and syntax. As candidates decide which additional language demands (i.e., syntax and/or discourse) are relevant to their identified function, they should examine the language understandings and use that are most relevant to the learning task they have chosen. Then, teacher candidates should plan to provide appropriate and targeted language supports for students to learn and practice the language demands within the chosen learning task.

This AL handout provides definitions and a few examples of language demands and supports to help teacher candidates and Educator Preparation Programs understand edTPA Rubrics 4 and 14. See the edTPA Handbook glossary and the Understanding Rubric Level Progressions for Secondary History/Social Studies for additional examples of language demands.

Another valuable resource is the website of Understanding Language, the center that recently merged with SCALE: <http://ell.stanford.edu/>. It has a number of papers on academic language for all students, archived webinars (listed under Events), and periodic MOOC offerings. The most relevant resources for teacher candidates are the teaching resources in English/language arts (with an example based on history/social science texts) and mathematics, with materials forthcoming in science. These teaching resources are explained and annotated to illustrate how to combine academic language development and content pedagogy for all students, including English learners.

LANGUAGE DEMANDS

I. Functions
Definition	Examples (bolded and underlined within learning objectives)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Purposes for which language is used. ■ Content and language focus of learning tasks often represented by the active verbs within the learning outcomes. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Learning Objectives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Students will be able to compare the civilizations of the Incas and Aztecs. ■ Students will be able to explain the impact of minor political parties on elections. ■ Students will be able to describe two events that led to the Revolutionary War.

II. Vocabulary - Includes words, phrases and symbols used within disciplines.
Definition	Examples
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Words and phrases with subject-specific meanings that differ from meanings used in everyday life 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ table, ruler, key, power, class, charter, state
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ General academic vocabulary used across disciplines 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ compare, analyze, evaluate, describe
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Subject-specific words and/or symbols defined for use in the discipline 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ constitution, republic, colony, frontier, alliance, neutrality

III. Discourse
Definition	Examples
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ How members of the discipline talk, write, and participate in knowledge construction, using the structures of written and oral language. ■ Discipline-specific discourse has distinctive features or ways of structuring oral or written language (text structures) or representing knowledge visually. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Constructing Arguments (e.g., debates) ■ Interpreting Primary/Secondary Sources ■ Writing Speeches or Essays ■ Analyzing Newspaper editorials ■ Interpreting Graphic Representations (e.g., maps, graphs) ■ Analyzing Political cartoons

IV. Syntax
Definition	Examples

EXAMPLE OF PLANNED LANGUAGE SUPPORTS

To help programs and candidates begin to develop their understanding of language supports, start by examining a key standard or learning objective.

The chart below identifies sample language demands with related examples of supports based on one selected learning objective in History Social/Studies.

Example learning objective: Students will compare and contrast monarchies, democracies and dictatorships.

Identified Language Demands	Planned Language Supports
Compare and Contrast (Function)	Providing and modeling how to use the Venn Diagram to compare and contrast
Monarch, Dictator, Compare (Vocabulary)	Presenting examples of terms
Persuasive Essay (Discourse)	Providing a sample essay
